

TELCO FALLOUT

STOP CONGRESS BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE

www.saveaccess.org

Congress is on the verge of giving control of the internet to the telephone companies, compromising public, educational and governmental cable channels and legalizing the red-lining of communications services. The telephone companies are spending millions to get this legislation. If you think this is the wrong way to create a fair & democratic communications policy - then take action today! Go to: www.saveaccess.org/takeaction